Southern California Homebuilders Raise over $150,000 for BIA/SC Political Action Committee

Irvine, CA., - Despite tough economic conditions the homebuilding industry has banded together in an effort to raise over $150,000 for the Building Industry Association of Southern California's Political Action Committee (BIA/SC PAC), one of the largest and most active local PACs in Southern California.

BIA/SC PAC raises money to support local candidates whose goals are to help all Californians achieve the American Dream of homeownership. The PAC's mission is to identify, educate and support candidates for elective office who maintain integrity, are supportive of the building industry and are committed to the American Dream of homeownership and free enterprise.

This year's gala will be held at The City Club in Orange on Thursday May 20. Funds raised at the gala event will go toward helping elect the BIA endorsed local candidates and to defeat anti-housing candidates and initiatives.

BIA/SC Chief Executive Officer, Richard Lambros stated, "Our industry understands the importance of proactive participation in the political process. Our members have really come together in a sign of solidarity during these challenging times to maintain the strong political presence of our industry. The proceeds of this event combined with our existing PAC resources and on-going fundraising efforts will put us in a strong position heading into the 2010 election cycle."
