This conference will present a wide range of opportunities to help achieve energy-efficiency in new home and retrofit construction and how to market those efficiencies to the consumer. This half-day conference will also include a designated networking session to visit with other industry professionals and new product vendors.

Southern California Gas Company is offering these seminars as part of our ongoing commitment to provide our business customers with exceptional service and to promote energy efficiency.

Learn from experts:

Sam Rashkin, national director, ENERGY STAR® for Homes, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA)

Suzanne Shelton, president and CEO, Shelton Group

Herb Gardner, president homebuilding, City Ventures

Daniel Gehman, AIA LEED AP, principal, Thomas P. Cox Architects

Dan Thomsen, president, The Energy Doctors, Inc.

And many more...
